

Heather J. Rankin is a CRNA at Children's of Alabama, located in Birmingham, Alabama, where she has worked since 2006 as both a staff and as a senior CRNA. Heather received her DNP, MBA, and BSN from the University of Alabama at Birmingham, and her MSN from Samford University.

Heather has served the AANA on the BOD and on multiple committees and is the current AANA Treasurer. She has served the Alabama Association of Nurse Anesthetists in many roles since 2007 and was ALANA President 2010 – 2011 and is the current Communications chair.

In addition to clinical practice, Heather is adjunct faculty at Samford University and the Medical College of South Carolina. Heather, her husband, Wes, and their energetic boys enjoy watching and playing sports and being on the water at the lake or the beach.